

Greg & Denise

Dear Birth Family

We would like to begin by expressing our true admiration for you and our desire is to help this difficult decision you are facing be an easier one. We want you to know what a special person we think you are for considering adoption and hope that God's plan for your child includes us. This is a very exciting time for our family and we want to welcome you into our hearts and lives. This introduction is just a short, brief glimpse into our lives, but we hope to show you how much love and dedication we have to offer your child.

With love,

-Greg, Denise, Anthony, and Phillip

About Us

We met each other on a blind date almost ten years ago and it was truly "love at first sight." We have built our relationship on love, trust, and most of all friendship.

We are best friends and love being parents. Today we live in beautiful Southern New Hampshire and are near Denise's large family. We love New England and enjoy all of the seasons: Fall with vibrant colors on the trees, snow in the winter for Christmas, flowers blossoming in the spring, and warm summers at the beach.

Greg is employed as a marketing manager and has a flexible schedule with many days off each month; perfect for meeting the demands of fatherhood. Often he works from his home office and therefore is never late for dinner! Greg's favorite activities include: "Daddy time" with the boys, reading, traveling, snow skiing, gardening, and date nights with Denise. Greg volunteers with the local school committee and the Good Neighbor Fund.

Denise now works full time as a "stay at home mom" now that we have adopted Anthony and Phillip. She's very active in the local Moms Club where they do a lot of fun activities with the kids, such as playgroups and field trips. She's also involved in a book club, and does other volunteering in the community as well. She's back in college one night each week to finishing her teaching certificate.

Our Boys

Anthony and Phillip

We have two boys, Anthony (four) and Phillip (three). Both were adopted from The Adoption Alliance. Anthony is adventurous and energetic, and Phillip loves to laugh and smile. They are a team whether they are riding bikes on the driveway, playing on the swings, or playing ball with Daddy but there is always room for one more. Both Denise and Greg have siblings who are close to them in age and we hope that we can find them a little sister soon. Anthony already makes statements that start with “when the baby comes home...”

Our Birthmothers Deborah and Jennifer

We can't show their photos out of respect for their privacy, but we adore our birthmothers and they are part of our extended family. We still exchange letters and photos once or twice each year, and they each have our phone number. We tell the boys that they are extra special – that unlike other kids they've got two mothers: a birth mom and a forever mom. Birthmother photos are proudly displayed in each boys' room. One thing that unites all types moms is the love of their children and the wish that each one has a happy and fulfilled life.

Our Home

We are very blessed with a beautiful home about twenty minutes from Denise's mother and thirty minutes from her sister. Greg's job allows him to work from home most of the time and commuting is usually a "walk downstairs". It's on a cul-de-sac where a child can ride a bike in safety and has a long driveway that is perfect for pulling little red wagons or riding Big Wheels. There is also a large back yard (good for soccer balls) and an above ground pool. Last year Greg started a garden, and the boys love to help (especially eating the strawberries!). Our home is about 45 minutes from Boston so we can easily enjoy a taste of the city whenever we want. The neighborhood is full of young children, and we cannot wait to add one more!

Our Family

We are proud to say that both of our families are very supportive of our decision to adopt Anthony and Phillip and are excited about the possibility of another "new addition" to the family.

Holidays are always spent with family and friends. Every spring we have a giant Easter egg hunt at Nana's house (she has the biggest yard) and enjoy a traditional Easter Italian feast. The Fourth of July is extra special in New England. We celebrate at a family beach house with a BBQ and the kids get to stay up late to watch the fireworks over the harbor. Labor Day marks the end of summer with another party at Greg's parents' lake house and it kicks off the start of college football season. Falls are busy too – often at Thanksgiving we have over 30 people eating, and one table just for kids! Christmas is our favorite because Santa always makes an appearance (after eating his milk and cookies left the night before). The little kids are up early in their matching Christmas pajamas to see what treasures were left for them.

Family Time

We're an adventurous couple who love to experience life but enjoy spending time with family the most. We have been so fortunate to go on many trips overseas, but now that we are parents our vacations are visits to the grandparents. For us it's more important to spend time together than to spend a lot of time traveling somewhere. Whether it's Family Game Night or a visit to the local orchard for apple picking, we do it together.

Next Steps

We hope that you have enjoyed getting to meet us, and would love to hear from you. If you want more information please contact The Adoption Alliance because our Birthmother Album has many more photos. We'd also be happy to talk with you on the phone or perhaps even meet in person.

In any case please take care of yourself and know our thoughts and prayers are with you and your baby.

Regards,

-Greg, Denise, Anthony, and Phillip
